

Voting underway for Miss SA 2020 Top 15 Finalist Palesa Keswa - Sasolburg Free State

Representing Free State Palesa Keswa (23) is from Zamdela, Sasolburg and has an undergraduate degree in economics and risk management. She is currently doing her honours in economics at the North West University. In 2017 Palesa was crowned

Miss North West University. Palesa describes herself as Passionate, smart, resilient and would love for there to be a wider scale for equal opportunities, especially for the marginalized and every gender, race and ethnic group must be afforded equal opportunities. Her female role models are Trudi Makhaya who is definitely a woman I look up. She's an economist and entrepreneur and is part of President Cyril Ramaphosa's advisory council. Being part of the president's advisory council falls under my long-term goals. I also look up to Malala Yousafzai - the young Nobel Peace Prize winner and an activist for female education. Palesa's message to young girls and young women in South Africa- You essentially control the trajectory of your life. You might not get there in record time but there is nothing perseverance, resilience and the right crowd can't fix. Your voice and your story matter, so use it to not only change your life but the lives of everyone you meet.

Voting Ends -Thursday, 16 July 2020 11:00pm

Zamdela music group drops 'Amapiano' style music

Zamdela youth music group 'Msolombians' are upbeat about the outcome from the work they have put in producing two singles in 'Amapiano' style called 'Dlala-Phala' and 'Hadi-Dume'. Amapiano is a genre of house music in the country. The single 'Dlala-Phala' was released last month and is currently played in many local and national radio stations. In the mist of the covid-19 and high youth unemployment the group aims to make youth of Zamdela and Free State smile and dance this youth month.

group that consists of three members Deco, So-Called, Freshe was formed a year ago and says the respond has been very good to their first single and would like to thanks everyone who supports them.

The 'Msolombians' are currently working hard making sure that they build from the work they have done in producing these two singles. The group says it has not been easy producing this music especially during this time as the Covid 19 pandemic has affected the work of many people including local artist. "As artist we survive by organizing and performing in events, since they have been cancelled it has been difficult as we don't receive any kind of support or assistance as local artists" said Deco. The group has appealed to everyone to keep safe, follow guidelines and regulations provided during this difficult period of Covid 19.

The group said they decided to introduce and localize this popular 'Amapiano' style of music, after realizing that most artists produce and perform this type of music for their own people in various places. "Amapiano is a life style in music and we decided to do this style for our own people here in the Free State, we wanted to bring this closer to home perform and produced by us for our own people. We are also proud that we have produced this single in Sesotho" said group member Deco. The
