Help Mafube Police find missing woman

Police are requesting assistance from the community in finding a missing woman named Nthabiseng Mofokeng (25).

Nthabiseng was reportedly last seen by her mother on Tuesday, 04 April 2022 at about 17:00.

It is reported by her mother that Nthabiseng informed her that she was going to visit her father at Randfontein and will return on Wednesday however, she never returned home.

On Wednesday, Nthabiseng's mother contacted the father and she was told that Nthabiseng never arrived at his place of residence in Randfontein.

The mother was unable to provide a recent photo of Nthabiseng. She is Sesotho speaking, light in complexion, tall with burgundy coloured hair. She was last seen wearing a blue T-shirt, navy blue denims, white and maroon sneakers with a black cap.

Anyone with information regarding Nthabiseng's whereabouts may contact Detective Warrant Officer Thapelo Ndaba on 083 652 2775 or Crime Stop on 08600 10111.

He further alleged that on Tuesday, 12 April 2022 at about 07:30, he went to his kraal and after counting sheep, realized that 04 were missing. The fence of the kraal was found cut, which raised a suspicion that they were stolen. Heilbron Stock Theft Unit members on the scene discovered tracks that indicated that the sheep might have been loaded on a motor vehicle away from the scene. Suspects are still at large and sheep not yet recovered.

Management of Fezile Dabi District would like to appeal to community members to report suspicious stock thieves in their communities. They should report any person selling raw stock meat on the streets on cheap prices. Buying this stolen meat opens market for thieves who will continuously commit stock theft.
